

In real life, these movements play out over the course of a one-hour game, with the players constantly moving in all directions; it's an incredibly strenuous and challenging workout for the players, which combined with impacts, contact and collisions, makes for a very realistic look. FIFA 20 introduced a brand-new running engine that used a combination of CPU and physics-based optimization to provide unparalleled visual fidelity and speed. This allowed the player models to move through surfaces, dodge, intercept, and exploit any space all while realistically reacting to movement. We took this and used it to map out a system where the teams and players are able to move at incredible speeds. The result is an impressive match engine that features new physics enhancements, a new Running Engine, and a brand new artificial intelligence (AI) that will disrupt how you think about playing the game. Plus a number of other features. Features Key:

- FIFA 22 brings to life a new generation of players with its analysis powered controls that lead to a higher quality of decision making. What happens on the pitch? Motion data – real-time player movement and touch qualities – is used in-engine to great effect in all key on-pitch actions. For example, make sure players attack the ball first-time in dribbling, swerve a difficult tackle - or volley from 25 yards out accurately, or get the foot to the near post just as fast as you can pull the trigger.
- In FIFA 22, you have to make decisions as you acquire players, and as you develop them into effective footballers. You can see where players are at any given time, and make in-game adjustments using a new, game-changing control system.
- The engine now ensures every tiny detail of your team's lifestyle reflects your club's identity, style and values.
- The pre-match engine, stadium and training facility are now even more responsive and natural-feeling. You'll enjoy watching your superstar players impact your team more dynamically.
- The intelligent Player Impact Engine takes complex movements from the pitch and uses its motion data to make sure the ball path and interactions of players stay smooth.
- FIFA 22 also introduces a campaign that takes place in 2015 and follows the team that dominated in the 2014 World Cup: Brazil.
- Dynamically rendered crowd and players in new stadiums create a lifelike atmosphere on and off the pitch.
- The ability to set up your tactics and formations in any given situation dynamically has been improved, with the ability to have the classic 4-4-2 diamond or 3-5-2 on the fly. A new system allows you to build your midfield from the weakest parts of your squad to choose the right players to support the strikers.
- FIFA 22 is officially licensed by the English Football Association. You are now able to experience the magic of The Beautiful Game like never before.
- Expanded Scouting Reports.
- Precise training and
